

Management 306 – Sample Exam – 1

You want to move up the corporate ladder. You've read hundreds of business books, and last weekend you traveled to a seminar on leadership. Monday morning your manager stopped by, and you told him all about the seminar. He was intrigued and asked you to send him a memo explaining the differences between a leader and a manager. Write this memo. It must contain at least five major points supported by specific examples.